

Free Republic of LIBERLAND

The Free Republic of Liberland (hereinafter “Liberland”) is a sovereign state located between Croatia and Serbia on the west bank of the Danube River. On some maps, this area is referred to as “Gornja Siga.”

The nearest towns are Zmajevac (Croatia) and Bački Monoštor (Autonomous Province of Vojvodina, Serbia).

This parcel of land came into existence due to a border dispute between Croatia and Serbia. This area is not claimed by Croatia, Serbia, nor any other nation or private entity.

Furthermore, it remained unclaimed since the dissolution of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia in 1991. In fact, for many decades, it has been uninhabited and no claim was ever made to this piece of land. It was therefore terra nullius – a no man’s land – until Vít Jedlička and Jana Markovicova proclaimed it as the Free Republic of Liberland on 13 April 2015.

Liberland has set its boundary with ample margin from neighbouring countries to ensure that it does not infringe upon the territory of Croatia or Serbia. The total area is approximately 7 km² and is now the third smallest sovereign state, after the Vatican and Monaco.

LIBERBASE

Mirek and Veronika arrived in Liberland at the end of August 2023. They tried to stay in Liberland but some unfortunate circumstances prevented them from settling down. All Liberland settlers shared a need at that time: having a place, which would support their efforts in infrastructure-less Liberland.

So they decided to look for a suitable property as close to Liberland as possible, purchased one, and offered its premises to all Liberlanders unconditionally.

Liberbase became a community of settlers and their friends.

The Liberland movement seems to be growing in numbers and Liberbase continues to support the cause despite all challenges.

2 JEFFERSON SQUARE

Jefferson Square is the site of the first settlement on Liberland: a ruined building that the Croats demolished and then removed all the stone back in 2018. However, to everyone’s surprise a fully intact cellar remained which is currently being used as a storage area. This is formally known as Liberty Street 1 and will in time become the seat of Liberland Congress.
